cuss his case. He did not appear nervous.

While in the dining car of the train Sunday, Mrs. Burton refused to shake hands with Governor Hoch. When the Burtons entered the car, Gov. Hoch and another politician were occupying the chairs at one of the tables. Burton and the governor shook hands. Mrs. Burton followed and the governor arose from his chair and offered his hand.

"No, Mr. Hoch," said Mrs. Burton, "I will not shake hands with you. You were not our friend when you could have helped us, and I refuse to have anything to do with you now."

The governor gracefully accepted the refusal and after speaking a word or two with the ex-senator, sat down. Mrs. Burton sat down with her back to the governor.

OFF TO PRISON.

Former Senator Burton Accompanied by Wife and Daughter.

Abilene, Kas., Oct. 22.—Joseph R. Burton, former United States senator from Kansas, whose sentence to six months in the county jail at Ironton, Mo., recently was upheld by the United States supreme court, left his home here for St. Louis to go to prison. He was accompanied by Mrs. Burton, and their adopted daughter, who will take up their residence in Ironton during Burton's incarceration. Numerous townsmen called at his home here to bid him adieu. He seemed thoroughly cheerful and laughingly said: "I've paid my laundry bill and looked after some other small matters, but I don't suppose that would interest the public." When Burton and his family departed for St. Louis a number of friends were at the station to see them off.

Burton declined to talk of his case except to reiterate previous statements that he would not appeal to the president for a pardon. When asked if his friends would ask for executive clemency for him he said: "They know better than to do that."

Baby Labarsky is the fifth born to the proud parents. The first child weighed 10 pounds, the second 15 and the fourth 20 pounds.

TO RAISE SUBMARINE

Divers Working on French Boat Which Went Down at Bizerta, October 16th.

Bizerta, Tunis, Oct. 22.—The divers working on the French submarine boat Lutin, which went down off this port Oct. 16 with 14 men and two officers, succeeded in digging a tunnel under her stern, through which a hawser was passed. A heavy chain was placed in position under the submarine's bows and preparations for lifting her are complete. All efforts to remove the bodies from the Lutin proved vain. Through the window of the hatch divers perceived two corpses with arms interlocked. The position of these bodies is such as to make it impossible to open the manhole and therefore ingress to the submarine cannot be had. The two bodies seen from outside cannot be identified.

FIGHT RESUMED IN PARLIAMENT

Some of the British Issues to Be Settled This Session.

DUCAL BILL DEADLOCKED

House of Lords Not Disposed to Yield to Lower House and the Measure May Cause Appeal to the Country. Irish Leaders Will Insist on Home Rule for Old Erin.

London, Oct. 22.—In the session of parliament that will begin Tuesday, there are two conflicts to settle. One of these is between the house of lords and the house of commons over the education bill and between the government and the labor party over the workmen's compensation bill. During the recess the socialist wing of the labor party opposed the government's candidates, and the present is considered something of a test of the government's ability to hold the support of the labor members of the house.

The controversy between the house of lords and the house of commons over the education bill may lead to serious consequences and possibly cause an appeal to the country, as the two houses are apparently irreconcilable over the measure. The house of lords shows little disposition to yield to the lower house and the main purpose of the bill, that of giving the country a better educational system, is for the time being forgotten in the intensity of the strife between the two houses.

The merchants' shipping bill will come up before Christmas and the matter of the Transvaal constitution also will receive further attention. The indications are, therefore, that the coming session will be full of activity and contention.

The Irish question is a slumbering volcano which may break out at any moment, but there is believed to be a tacit understanding that it will go over to the next session for full discussion. It is believed, however, that James Bryce, chief secretary for Ireland, may before the adjournment disclose the government's proposals concerning Ireland, although it is considered more likely that the government will prefer to postpone agitation by putting off a declaration of its Irish policy until the last moment. In the meantime the Irish leaders, notably John Redmond here and T. P. O'Connor in the United States, are indicating that the government's concession of anything short of complete home rule will be unacceptable to the Irish party.

Henry Campbell Bannerman, the premier, returned to town after a long rest following the death of his wife at Marienbad last summer. He intends to resume the active direction of parliamentary affairs. A meeting of the cabinet was called for Monday, after which the premier will have an audience with King Edward and the work of the session will be definitely determined.

She says he threw a lighted lamp at her and then she seized a towel, lit from the broken lamp, and set her clothing on fire. Her statements are substantiated by a three-year-old daughter. Mrs. Doran's hair was burned to the scalp and her clothing above the waist was burned off, scorching the skin in a frightful manner.

OUTPUT OF OIL HAS INCREASED

But the Money Value of the Product Shows Big Shrinkage.

DEVELOPMENT OF OIL FIELDS

Statistics Also Show an Increase in Volume and Value of Natural Gas, Notwithstanding Decline of the Gas Fields in Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee—West Virginia Leads.

Washington, Oct. 22.—In the year 1905 the oil fields of the United States produced 134,717,580 barrels of petroleum, as against 117,050,980 barrels in 1904, according to a report by the United States Geological Survey. This was greater by 17,666,600 barrels than the production in any previous year, although the value of the oil was $17,018,956 less than that of 1904. During 1905 there was a notable development in the mid-continental oil fields and the completion of a pipeline from Humboldt, Kan., to Whiting, Ind., marked an important step in the transportation of oil.

The natural gas statistics show that in the calendar year 1905 the value of natural gas produced and sold exceeded that of any previous year by $3,066,099. The total value of the gas produced and sold was $41,562,555. The greatest increase was in West Virginia, $1,361,655, more than the previous year. Pennsylvania shows an increase of $1,057,442. Louisiana appeared for the first time as a gas-producing state, and notable increases over previous productions were shown by Kansas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Kansas showed an increase of 49 per cent. over its previous production, and the combined production of Oklahoma and Indian Territory was 161 per cent. over 1903. The great gas fields of Indiana have steadily declined since 1902 and the value of the output last year was considerably less than half of the maximum production. Kentucky and Tennessee also report a decline.

HIT BY TROLLEY NEAR BLACK HAND PAINFULLY HURT

WM. HARTSHORN AND MISS LELIA MITCHELL VICTIMS OF THE ACCIDENT.

WATCHING A TRAIN PASS

And Failed to Hear Interurban Car—Companions Jumped From Track in Time.

While walking along the interurban track west of Black Hand, four Newark young people narrowly escaped death under the wheels of an interurban car on the C. N. & Z. division of the Indianapolis, Columbus and Eastern traction lines late Sunday afternoon. Mr. William Hartshorn and Miss Lelia Mitchell, a clerk at the Griggs company store, received painful injuries and their escape from death was considered miraculous. Miss Mitchell sustained a deep cut in the head and suffered numerous bruises about the hip and back. Mr. Hartshorn was not so fortunate and sustained a fractured collar bone and was otherwise badly bruised. The injuries to Mr. Hartshorn are made more serious from the fact that he has only recently recovered from an attack of typhoid fever and this was his first outing since the sickness.

Mr. Hartshorn and Miss Mitchell were accompanied by Mr. Noel Armstrong and Miss Helen Graf, both well known young people of the city. They took an interurban car east bound and left the car west of Black Hand track, intending to walk to Black Hand Station beyond the tunnel and take a west bound car back to Newark.

The young people had stopped on the interurban track to watch a B. and O. freight train which was pulling up a heavy grade on the opposite hillside. Their attention was so closely drawn to the freight train that they forgot to watch the approach of the interurban cars and with only a sharp blast from the whistle of a rapidly moving car as a warning, they turned to see their danger.

Mr. Armstrong and Miss Graf were further from the car and succeeded in getting off the track but Miss Mitchell and Mr. Hartshorn were both struck and hurled some distance from the track. The car was quickly stopped and passengers at once went to the assistance of Mr. Armstrong and Miss Graf, who were attempting to revive the injured people.

Both were stunned by the accident and it was some moments before they recovered consciousness. They were placed aboard the car and a telephone message was sent to Newark and Drs. Evans and Speer met the car when it arrived at the station.

It was found that Mr. Hartshorn's right collar bone was fractured and injuries noted above, inflicted. Drs. Evans and Speer dressed the injuries and the young people were removed to their respective homes.

NEGRO LYNCHED.

Spirited Away by a Mob While the Watchmen Were Asleep.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 22.—Robert Clarke, alias Dan Dove, a negro from Kansas City, was hanged to a telephone pole by 300 masked men after being mysteriously spirited from the jail of Jackson county, Mississippi. The negro was arrested Friday night by a posse, who followed him to within two miles of Mobile from Lucedale, where he attempted to assault two white women, and stole a horse and shotgun. The negro offered resistance and was shot in the shoulder. Deputy Sheriff H. W. Hinton of Lucedale took the prisoner from the posse and managed to evade a Mississippi mob bent on lynching him. Hinton placed the negro in the Lucedale jail and with another deputy guarded him until morning, when both fell asleep. When they awakened the negro was missing and was subsequently found strung up to a telephone pole a short distance from the jail. There is absolutely no clue to the identity of any member of the mob.

KEOKUK DAM A MARVEL

Structure Across the Mississippi to Be 6,000 Feet Long.

THIRTY-FIVE FEET IN HEIGHT

Its Cost Estimated at $10,000,000. Total of 211,500 Horsepower, Greater Than That at Niagara Falls. Will Be Generated—A $5,000,000 Canal Is Doomed.

Hugh L. Cooper, the Wall street engineer who solved the problem of how to harness the waters of Niagara and who drew the plans which made it possible to accomplish that greatest of all feats in the line of electrical development, proposes to build a dam 6,000 feet long across the Mississippi river at Keokuk, Ia., at the foot of what is known as the Des Moines rapids, says a special dispatch from Keokuk to the Chicago Record-Herald. Here where the forces of the father of waters are the strongest and wildest, for a distance of twelve miles he has evolved a plan to build the immovable in front of the irresistible, and the old question of the ancient Greek physicists will be answered in the changed commercial conditions in the heart of the American nation.

Large dams have been built before, albeit none so large as the proposed dam at Keokuk, which, it is expected, will be built within the next two years. The great Niagara falls proposition was so enormous that for a time the country laughed and said that it was not possible to so control the mighty forces there as to get 200,000 horsepower for commercial purposes. But when the world's greatest dam at Keokuk is completed the immense power house, 1,833 feet long, will contain 47 immense generators, with a capacity of 4,500 horsepower each, or a maximum capacity of 211,500, to be utilized in operating the industrial wheels in many cities.

There was a time not so many years ago when the wise ones said it was impossible to dam the Mississippi at Keokuk as it would be to try to stop the flow of the tides or to change the course of the moon in its orbit. The force of the rapids is so strong that practical engineers have figured that 41,000,000,000 gallons of water pass over in twenty-four hours. Until 1877 it was impossible for steamboats to go any farther north than Keokuk because of the rapids. All freight was unloaded there and hauled twelve miles up stream, where it was transferred to other boats and the interrupted trip to St. Paul continued. Thirty years ago the government built a great canal at Keokuk in the interest of navigation, so that river traffic would not be impeded, the cost being $5,000,000.

Now Uncle Sam has agreed to let Mr. Cooper and the syndicate back of him destroy this $5,000,000 improvement, and the president has signed a bill giving the right to condemn any land needed which cannot otherwise be acquired.

The great dam and water power electric plant will cost at least $10,000,000 to complete. Over $1,000,000 of this will be paid to the owners of the land which will be overflowed above the dam. Careful investigation during the past year has determined the feasibility of the project, and nearly $100,000 has already been expended in preliminary work. Surveys have been made from Keokuk to Burlington, and it has been determined that in the neighborhood of 9,000 acres of valuable farming lands will be under thirty-five feet of still running water, the overflow extending thirty-five miles up stream. Options on a large part of these lands are already secured, and the work is continuing as rapidly as possible.

The great dam, which will be thirty-five feet in height, will extend in a grand curve across the river from the end of the power house. In order to admit of the passage of boats there will be one lock on the Iowa side instead of three, as in the canal, which will be drowned deep, while the government will save $40,000 a year in operating expenses alone.

As soon as the exact cost of the work can be computed the syndicate of Canadian capitalists who provided the money for the work at Niagara will make their decision. They have already said that they want to build the dam, but they will not give out the positive statement as to the date when the work will be started until they know exactly what the cost is going to be.

They are profiting by the experience gained at Glens Falls, Pa., where they built a dam across the Susquehanna, but began the work before they had acquired possession of all the land necessary. The result was that they encroached on the rights of the owner of a little island which the owner bought for $100. But when it came to squaring matters with this man they had to pay him $30,000 before he would be satisfied. That is why they are so careful to have all the preliminaries out of the way before they turn loose their 2,000 men at Keokuk.

Pensions For Scavengers. The service of men and women charged with keeping the streets and promenades of Paris clean during the fine season has been reformed, says the Le Petit Journal. These modest functionaries, known as the "prefect's lancers," number about 4,000, forming divisions and brigades, and the average salary is 5 francs a day. To this has recently been added by the municipal council the right to a pension.

PROTEST MADE BY COTTAGERS AT BUCKEYE LAKE

FEAR TRACTION COMPANY WILL BUILD LINE ALONG LAKE SHORE.

WATKINS MAKES STATEMENT

Improvements to Be Made—Swamps Drained—Public Landings and Waste Gates Made Secure.

Some excitement has prevailed among lessees of state property along the west shore of the Buckeye Lake from Buckeye Lake Park to Millersport, because of the announcement that the Buckeye Lake Traction company had secured a lease for a right of way there, and that the state was to build a retaining wall for the benefit of the traction company and the line was to be built at once.

It aroused the lessees for the reason that many of them would in that case find themselves with a railway between their leasehold and the lake and no permission, as they feared to cross that property to reach the lake. They have kept the telephone lines hot and the bell ringing almost constantly in the office of the land department of the board of public works for the past week.

Inquiry was made as to the reported lease and the probability of the building of the road. It is true that the company holds such a lease but for the reasons which are given in an appended statement of President George H. Watkins, president of the state board, it seems unlikely that the company will use it. The lease was granted several years ago when the desirability of that shore line as sites for cottages had not been foreseen.

It is lined now with leases of persons who either have or intend to erect summer homes there. The board regrets that the lease was made. It has 11 years to run yet and all the members state that they would not renew it. However, if the company should build a line on the lease before the time runs out the state might have trouble in ousting it.

If the company does not build the track it will be due to the determination of the late General A. T. Wikoff, who would not agree to the lease until there had been placed in the lease the condition that any other company desiring to build a line to the lake should have the right to operate its cars over this right of way. The company strenuously objected to this, but General Wikoff was firm and the condition went in. Later on the company wanted to change the proposed line from a standard gauge to a narrow gauge, but General Wikoff saw that this was but a scheme to prevent other lines from using the track and the request was refused. It is believed that this is the real reason why the company has never built the road.

George H. Watkins, president of the state board of public works, gives the following statement of the situation:

So many calls for information in regard to the suits mentioned in the newspapers relating to the leased lands at Buckeye Lake have been made to the board of public works and the it of sufficient importance to warrant a statement of fact.

"In regard to the statement that the state board of public works is preparing to build a retaining wall for the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company to build an electric railway upon, around the north embankment of said lake, it is emphatically false in every particular. "If the statement that the owners of land abutting on the lake have raised $7,000, to test the validity of the leases made by the state around the reservoir, has no more foundation of fact than the first statement, it like the other, should receive no consideration.

"A former board of public works and the Ohio canal commission in 1891, leased the top of the reservoir bank (but not the slopes) for traction railway purposes, reserving the right of the public to land at all points not occupied by permanent buildings where the outer slopes were leased for depot purposes and to pass over and along said right-of-way at all times—to said railway company for the term of fifteen years, at an annual rental of $1,109.46.

"For a distance of about 1100 feet at what is known as Buckeye Lake Park, both the inner and outer slopes were leased for purposes other than railway right-of-way. In this lease, as in all others, the right of the public to land at all points not occupied by permanent buildings, and cross said embankment, for temporary purposes, were reserved.

"Shortly after the lease was granted, the company desired to change the track from a standard gauge to a narrow gauge, claiming that the top of the bank was too narrow for a standard gauge. This permission was refused, as it would have been impossible for other roads building to the lake, to have operated their cars on such a track, as was provided for by the terms of the lease, and the board did not wish at that time to exclude other roads from enjoying the same privileges as the original lessees. Thereupon the company decided to substitute a boat line in lieu of such railway, and from that time to this, no overtures have ever been made to this board with a view to constructing such a line and probably never will be. We know absolutely nothing of any such contemplated improvements by the Buckeye Lake company, and believe the rumor is the product of some one's vivid imagination.

"Not a single member of the board would vote now to grant another railway franchise over the reservoir embankment, and we shall certainly do nothing to encourage the present company to make use of that portion of their present lease that authorizes them to use the top of the embankment for railway purposes.

"Nor do we believe for a moment that the present lessees would be willing to make a large investment that could be promptly utilized to equal advantage by any rival company that may construct a line to the reservoir as is already in contemplation.

"So long as the park board refuses to grant permission to any other company to build a road over the embankment, we think the present company will only be too glad to let things remain in statu quo.

In regard to the intended improvements along the north bank, it is the intention of park board to strengthen the weak points along the embankment by relaying the rip-rap stone work that was laid on the inner slope of the bank when the reservoir was completed in 1832—a large portion of which has tumbled into the reservoir, so that at a great number of points a serious situation threatens the stability of the reservoir, to say nothing of the peril that jeopardizes life and property to the north, especially in the vicinity of Newark.

"The expenditure of a few hundred dollars at the present time will render these weak points strong and safe beyond question, and the board would be criminally negligent in the performance of its duties if it did not make these repairs at this time, as it has already arranged to do.

"The 77th General Assembly generously provided that hereafter all revenues derived from the leasing of lands and collections from boat licenses shall be expended upon the reservoirs from which they are derived. Unfortunately the semi-annual collections had mostly been made when the law passed and had been credited to the canal repair fund.

"Outside of the boat licenses and the first payment on land leases, the rentals due November 1 will be the first benefits under the new law that will be available for park improvements.

"There is now available for improvements at Buckeye Lake about $1,460. The November collections will bring in about as much more, sufficient for the most pressing needs, but infinitely too small to relapse the rip-rap, with concrete between the stones, along the 4-1-2 miles of artificial embankment, as eventually contemplated by the plans of present board.

The members of the park board

"He Wants The 'Star' Chew, Too!"

There's no chew like "Star"!

Cheap chews cost more in the end than "Star" because you don't get the same satisfaction. Nor do you get as much chewing out of a plug as when you chew

STAR
PLUG CHEWING TOBACCO

The best is always the cheapest—particularly chewing tobacco. The select, ripe, rich leaf in "Star" plug is elastic and lasting. It's so juicy and sweet—lasts twice as long as ordinary chews.

For forty years the standard chew, it is still, as always, the same full-weight, 16 oz. plugs and the same popular price.

takes especial pride in the public parks of the state, and the public can rest assured that their interests will be jealously guarded, but until the earnings have produced the requisite revenues, we ask the public to be as patient as possible.

"We believe that the day is not far distant when citizens of Ohio will point with pride to her 30,000 acres of land that have been dedicated forever as public parks.

"The public is no doubt interested in knowing what improvements are contemplated on these parks by the park board, and there is no reason why they should not know everything that has been considered by the board.

"Among the most important are the construction of public landings at points around the lake, where the best interests of the public will be served.

"The board has reserved from lease a number of lots where the most of these landings will be located.

"Swamps are to be drained along the bottom pits that now render the shore of the reservoir unsanitary and miasmatic.

"New channels are to be made by the removal of stumps and logs now submerged and exceedingly dangerous to navigation.

"Channels will be staked out and dangerous points marked with buoys. "Rules have already been formulated governing navigation and the general management of these parks, copies of which can be had for the asking.

"The board has undertaken to secure a right of way (without expense to the state) for a natural gas pipe line for the convenience of the owners of cottages on the lake—both on state property and adjacent lands.

"The waste gates are to be rendered secure, so that the water may be under absolute control at all times.

"Police protection will be furnished as far as our limited resources will permit. In the near future it is hoped that additional driveways from the public highways will be laid out connecting at convenient points with the reservoir. Nothing will be omitted, so far as our resources will permit, that will add to the pleasure of those visiting these public parks.

"In regard to the rights of the park board to make leases for cottage and landing purposes, we wish to state that we are acting in conformity to opinions rendered by the present attorney general and likewise of his predecessor, that seem to leave no doubt as to our authority. And we think that the lessees of cottage sites need not worry about the threats that have recently been made to have the same annulled by the courts. At least one similar case has been decided in the supreme court in favor of the state in regard to the banks of the Mercer county reservoir.

IN ROYAL ERMINE.

Last season it was the snowy white that was demanded of the furrier, but so skillfully was that imitated in the cheapest kind of pelts that nowadays Dame Fashion demands the ermine that shows a slightly yellowish cast throughout, thus making a virtue of what was formerly considered a blemish. A royal set is that pictured herewith. The long stole is narrowed at the neck portion, so that it sets well around the throat without any clumsiness or undue thickness, and below that point it broadens gradually to the petent synovitis. Some years ago he

In Police Court.
A number of plain drunks and minor police court cases were disposed of by Mayor McCleery Monday morning.

Complaints are Filed.
Complaints have been filed with Mayor McCleery that minors living in the north end get liquor at the saloon operated by Charles Schimpf. Officer Carroll who was on duty in that neighborhood found a young man drinking beer in a pool room operated in connection with the Schimpf saloon, but the proprietor insists that the liquor was given to the lad by a stranger who bought it and paid for it at the bar.

Pleased With Granville.
Among those who accompanied the members of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church to Granville on Sunday were several persons who had never visited the classic village, and all were exceedingly well pleased with the attractiveness of the place.
One lady in particular, was very enthusiastic over the beauties of the village and said she was going to see to it that her nephew had his name enrolled as a student on the books of the college.

Notice to Indigent Blind Persons.
Judge Brister requests the Advocate to state for him that owing to the recent decision of the Supreme court the law for the relief of worthy blind persons has been wiped out, and that hereafter there will be no blind pensions to be obtained through the Probate court, the township trustees or any other source, and all blind pensions have absolutely ceased.
Judge Brister regrets the decision which bars worthy blind persons from their pensions very much.

B. & O. Officials Here.
President Oscar C. Murray, of the B. & O. railroad, and party, passed through the city Monday morning on a special train of six cars, en route from Baltimore to Chicago, their extreme western terminus, where the president's party will confer for several days with the officials of the other roads in which the B. & O. is interested. The return trip will be made much slower and a stop will be made at Newark. The private car of of little paws and tails. It really would seem as though the ermine might be likened to the cat-o-nine tails, for there certainly does seem to be an undue allowance of those effective little tails that start yellow at the base and deepen into black at the tip. One tail to one ermine seems to be all too little for fashion purposes, but since the furrier assures us that they are all genuine ermine tails there is nothing to do but agree with him. The muff shows that smart turnover effect that is one of the later novelties, paws and tails being alternated in proportion to their natural occurrence.

General Superintendent Loree joined the inspection train at Wheeling for Chicago, and Division Superintendent Irwin joined the party here. The party will return to Baltimore by easy stages, inspecting the terminals here and the terminals west of the Ohio river.

He Pleaded Guilty.
The case of Norris Snelling was heard in the Probate court Monday.
Snelling was charged with committing an assault on a Hungarian with an iron bar. Snelling pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and the costs, amounting in all to $18, which was paid.

Attempted Burglary.
Mrs. Samuel Johnson of 26 Pearl street, whose husband was so viciously assaulted Saturday night, stated to the Advocate Monday that an effort was made last Wednesday night to burglarize their home. Mrs. Johnson stated that she was at the house alone with her son when some one climbed to the roof of a porch back of the house and tried to force an entrance at a window. She succeeded in frightening the intruders away. This happened about 11 o'clock while the other members of the family were at the Auditorium.

Questions of the Hour.

Was there proper watchfulness and care, or official efficiency at the county jail when those eight prisoners escaped, seven of whom are still at large? Have the necessary measures been taken and the requisite diligence exercised in efforts to recapture those dangerous criminals? Are not these the questions that concern the people the most deeply at this time? And, by the way, as the reward offered for the recapture of those prisoners is manifestly inadequate, what action has the county commissioners taken to increase the reward? It is certain that not one of the prisoners has been recaptured.

The American-Tribune quotes an esteemed lady as saying at the county meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at Johnstown that "we cannot afford to induce this zealous temperance woman to say a word for Mr. Ashbrook's opponent, Martin Luther Smyser, should be or can be endorsed for temperance reasons? The Wooster Herald, the prohibition paper printed at Smyser's home, and one of whose editors is a professor in the Wooster (Presbyterian) University, has this to say of Martin Luther Smyser:

"The Republicans failing to nominate a candidate known to stand for high moral ideals, can expect little else than defeat at the polls this fall. The promise to secure appropriations for a few public buildings will not bolster up the INTERPERANCE AND IMMORALITY of any candidate."

The A-T. tried to palm off the statement of the lady at Johnstown as an expression of the meeting. This was not the case. It was only the lady's individual utterance, and, we are reliably informed, does not voice the sentiment of the resident members of Johnstown or of the members of the W. C. T. U. there with the bare exception of two.

Editor Mack of the Sandusky Register, is one of those Republican editors who don't spoil a good story for political associations' sake. He speaks out when occasion requires. Here is what he has to say about the Dyspeptics Quick relief from Stomach, Heartburn, Nausea, and all other disorders of indigestion and dyspepsia. Sugar-coated tablets. 10c. or 25c. Druggists or by mail. Give instant relief in Nasal Catarrh—alleviate inflammation, heal mucous membrane, sweeten breath. Best remedy for Catarrh of Throat, Lungs, and Bladder. At all druggists or by mail.

Republican confidence at state machine headquarters in Columbus: "Dick tells the reporter that he is perfectly confident that the Republicans will carry Ohio by a handsome majority this year. He was perfectly confident a year ago that Herrick could carry it by a handsome majority, but he discovered when the vote was counted that his confidence was without foundation whatever, and if the people of Ohio believed that Governor Harris could be controlled by Charles Dick and that Mr. Thompson could be controlled by Charles Dick the Democrats would carry Ohio this year by as large a majority as they did a year ago."

Does Smyser stand for Roosevelt, or does he stand for his old political chum, Foraker, who is now more afraid of the President's "greed of power" than he is of the trusts' "greed of avarice."

Now that the supreme court has held that the Ohio senate had no power to order an investigation of affairs in Cincinnati and Hamilton county as it did and undertook to do in the case of the Drake committee, there is doubtless much regret upon the part of the Hamilton officials and former officials who hastily gave up nearly a quarter of a million taken from the taxpayers without warrant in law, doing so because of the disclosures of the committee which it now turns out had no authority to act.—Youngstown Vindicator.

The only thing that the court failed to do for the complete vindication of the Cox gang, was omitting to say that they stole the quarter of a million dollars legally and therefore should be entitled to draw the stolen money back again from the Hamilton county treasury.

Smyser's Late Day Denial That He Is the Trust Candidate.

A squeal is put up by Smyser and his organs because a Wayne county Democratic paper refused to print his thin and gauzy denial that he is the candidate of the trusts. It is pretty late for Smyser to be putting in his denial that he is in fact the trust candidate for Congress. He did not think about it when he made his speech accepting the Republican nomination for Congress in Newark. He has found out since that the vehement stand-pat position he took in his Newark speech is not proving so popular as he then thought it would. He then took a more extreme stand-pat position in favor of the eternal perpetuation of the high wall tariff for the benefit of the trusts than any other Republican candidate for Congress in Ohio. When he made that speech he must have imagined he was talking to a constituency of Pittsburgh stand-patters instead of to the people of an Ohio community who have minds of their own.

Little did Smyser comprehend when he made that speech that the people of the 17th district were going to be aroused on the great question of the greed of trusts as they are at the present stage of the campaign.

Other Ohio Republican congressional candidates started out proclaiming that they favor tariff revision. But Smyser has vehemently denounced any revision whatever. Other Ohio Republican candidates have publicly denounced the greed of trusts, notably both of them in Cleveland. No such public denunciation of trusts has escaped the lips of Smyser.

Has Smyser raised his voice against the special privileges of the trusts by which they are charging American consumers higher prices for their products than what they are selling them for to foreigners?

He never has and he will not offend his friends, the trusts, by doing it now.

There is a wide spread sentiment among intelligent, free thinking Republicans all over the country that these special privileges which are gused under the specious name of "protection" and which the greedy trusts are using to their advantage to the extent of piling up millions of dollars in profits off the people, is a great wrong that should be remedied.

But Smyser maintains that these special privileges of the trusts are absolutely right and proper.

The trusts are making millions of dollars in profits off of American farmers for agricultural machinery and implements that they manufacture, ship abroad and sell to foreigners cheaper than they sell them to these home consumers. And this is only one line of the many products that the trusts sell to foreigners cheaper than to American consumers.

Smyser started out as the most extreme, vehement champion of trust stand-patism of any Republican congressional candidate in Ohio. And now at this late day in the campaign he comes around putting in a cautiously prepared denial that he is the trust candidate.

Carmi Thompson and the Cox Gang.

The statement of Carmi Thompson that the legislature at its next session will adopt a joint resolution providing for a committee to investigate Cincinnati and Hamilton county affairs and that the committee then appointed will be a fair one, the statement given out just after the supreme court decision that the Drake committee of the senate was without legal authority, is not fooling anybody or winning support for Thompson. The people of Ohio have a recollection of what was done at the last session of the legislature. They know that the members of the legislature who wanted an investigation of Cox's methods in Cincinnati and Hamilton county could not and would not trust Thompson with the power to name members of a committee to make such investigation. The original resolution, introduced by Representative Kealy, of Cincinnati, named the men of the House and Senate to serve on the committee, both parties being represented thereon.

Thompson took part in the scheme to kill it with a substitute, a scheme that many Republicans protested bitterly against. They admitted that the scheme was nothing more than for the purpose of turning an investigation into a whitewashing job. Thompson, as speaker of the House of Representatives, was known by the company he kept. He was associated with Cox, Foraker and Dick, and was known to be the servant of the political machine.

Thompson was nominated for secretary of state by the machine in return for the services he rendered it at the session of the legislature. The promise of Thompson as to what the legislature will do some fifteen months in the future will not satisfy the people of Ohio now.

The Drake committee succeeded in recovering a quarter of a million dollars that the Cox gang had stolen and had only fairly begun to unpeel and proceedings were stopped by a the proceedings were stopped by a Cox court.

The people will have a pretty distinct memory of this when they vote and Mr. Thompson will find that they will not elect a man to be secretary of state who thus used his official power to protect the Cox gang.

Republican Bosses Howling at President Gompers.

(New Philadelphia Democrat.) How the Republican bosses are squirming over the attitude of the labor leaders toward Congressman Smyser. They are like the bosses a year ago when they ignored advice given by old time Republicans on the temperance question—they are bosses without the men to boss. The party has largely been supported by laborers of the mine and shop and now that President Gompers has endorsed W. A. Ashbrook in this district for congress, the leaders are floundering and are cursing the very men who helped to make them strong. Their former strength is now their weakness for they are without argument and stand for nothing.

No delegation of Democrats from this county went to see President Gompers, urging that he come out flat-footed against Judge Smyser for congress. Whatever Gompers did was of his own accord, unbiased by any outside influences. Now that Gompers is opposing Smyser, the Republicans are crazy and the Republican papers are saying naughty things about the great labor leader. The laborer will know whether Gompers or the gang is right.

"The Republicans failing to nominate a candidate known to stand for high moral ideas, can expect little else than defeat at the polls this fall. The promise to secure appropriations for a few public buildings will not bolster up the interperance and immorality of any candidate."—Wooster Herald.

RUSSIA FACES GRAVE FINANCIAL CRISIS AT PRESENT

EXTENSION OF POWERS OF THE DOUMA MADE NECESSARY BY THE SITUATION.

MAY RECALL COUNT WITTE

Million Persons Out of Work and a Famine is Spreading in the Empire.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—An extension of the powers of the Douma, granting to it a decree of independence undreamed of in Russia has been made necessary by a financial crisis now faced by the empire. This information comes today on the highest authority. The recall of Count Witte to power in Russia may also come in the belief that he is the only man who can avert the calamity impending over the empire.

As a result of the trying situation in which the government finds itself a turn of affairs which will surprise the whole world is predicted. This will come in the shape of the new privileges to be granted the national assembly. Russia today is almost face to face with bankruptcy.

It is believed that Witte will adopt an uncompromising attitude and tell the czar that he must come to terms with the Douma and increase its powers if bankruptcy is to be avoided. Announcement of the extension of the Douma's powers is expected in the near future.

Russia is worse today financially than any European country in the last decade. During the last fortnight 100,000 factory hands have been discharged. Fully 1,000,000 persons are out of work. Famine is spreading through the country like the plague.

WEATHER WONDERS

Great Achievements of the Government Experts.

FORECASTS MADE AWAY AHEAD

Farmers Will Soon Be Able to Pick a Propitious Harvest Week Far in Advance—American Weather Maps Now Being Prepared Which Will Record Conditions Through Siberia.

Beginning Nov. 1 the United States weather map will practically be extended over the entire northern hemisphere, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Globe.

Maps are now being prepared for use by the forecasters of the government which will include Irkutsk, Tomsk and Ekaterinburg, in Siberia. In addition, the "Icelandic Low," which means the area of low winter barometer of the north Atlantic, will soon begin making reports by cable. The opening of cable service to Iceland, recently announced, will make this possible.

Already the weather bureau receives reports from western Europe, including London, Paris, Hamburg and a half dozen points in Great Britain. Every morning a cable from the Azores covers conditions in the south Atlantic region, including Lisbon, and arrangements are now nearing completion for daily reports from the "Bering Sea Low" barometric area. In the summer storm season the West Indies region is well reported.

Broadly speaking, the northern hemisphere will after Nov. 1 report daily on its weather conditions to the weather bureau at Washington. There will still be large gaps, as, for instance, the Aleutian island chain from Alaska across to Siberia, which will have to be covered later by governments for wireless reports or for reports from steamships crossing the Pacific by the "great circle" route. Nome, Alaska, will for the time being be the extreme report from American territory to the far northwest. As soon as possible—which means when observers can be engaged—reports from interior Alaska will be secured.

And beyond this, in the not distant future, there will be an international weather reporting arrangement, just as there is now an international postal agreement, by which the world's weather conditions will be reported in co-operation, and forecasts will be made covering long periods of time.

"But how long?" was asked of Chief Forecaster Garriott at the weather bureau.

"We shall be able," he replied, "to at least notify the Kansas farmer of the outlook for weather long enough in advance to enable him to pick a propitious harvest week. It is not only important to tell what the weather will be, but to tell how long it will last; to forecast a rainy week and a fair week. We will be able to advise people when they will be safe in cutting their hay and allowing it to cure on the ground or to advise the farmer whether a coming week will be safe for cutting hay. A state fair management will be able to learn at the beginning of its week of entertainment whether the weather is likely to be good or whether a postponement would be desirable."

Areas of low and high barometer chasing one another over the earth determine weather. In winter the continental areas, being colder than the ocean areas, constitute the areas of high barometer, while the great water areas constitute the lows. In summer these conditions are just reversed, because in summer the lands are warmer and the oceans colder.

It all relates back to the ancient principle that heat expands and cold contracts. The air above a great land area under a July sun extends, rarefies, becomes light, and, therefore, its weight will sustain a less column in the barometer. So in summer, because it is hotter on land than on the seas, the "low" areas in general are above the land areas. In winter, because it is warmer over the oceans than the lands, the atmosphere over the oceans is lighter than over the lands. So conditions are reversed, and the "high" areas are the land or continental areas, and the "low" are the oceanic areas.

This is the basis of the whole business of weather forecasting. The greatest land area on earth is the immense continental plain from St. Petersburg east to the Pacific—7,000 miles in extent. This area has more to do with making weather than any other like area on earth because land is subject to greater extremes of heat and cold than water. Hence, to forecast weather, it is desirable to know conditions prevailing over this greatest land area. It is this which the weather bureau has now arranged to do.

The arrangements recently closed with the Central Physical observatory at St. Petersburg will secure reports from the points named in this great area of land expanse. With them the whole realm of possibilities of weather forecasting will be vastly enlarged. Washington will for the first time be able to reckon intelligently with world conditions, and as the experts become familiar with these conditions in detail they will make accurate forecasts for a far longer time than ever before.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, O., Oct. 22.—On Saturday morning a merry crowd of young people started from this place for "Bunkers," the well known country home of Mr. Burton Case, several miles north of the village, being conveyed to their destination in two large hay wagons. They arrived at the farm at an early hour in the morning, and during the day the members of the party were taken by Mr. Case to the many chestnut trees on the place. All had a most enjoyable time until 5:30 o'clock in the evening, when they returned home. Those in the party were: Misses Stella Case, Dorothy Kibler, Laura Beiter, Louise Ferguson, Margaret Chaffee, Marion Rose and Messrs Robert Walch, Frank Robbins, James Adair, Reed Brelsford, Robert Clark and Mr. Burton Case.

Many farmers complain of scarcity of labor. Each year the situation grows more difficult. Farm labor is harder to get and renters seem to be less competent. Farmers are to blame for the scarcity of labor. They hire a man through the busy season. When winter comes they don't give him work. Then he seeks employment in the factories in Newark where he can get work the entire year. So next year the farmer can look for another man. If you don't believe this watch the early morning cars leaving Granville for Newark.

Mrs. C. J. Rose returned home Saturday morning from Chicago where she has been visiting friends for some time.

Miss Lacy Walton of Columbus spent Sunday in the village, the guest of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. David Matticks of Newark and Dr. and Mrs. Wells of Zanesville were in Granville Sunday. Albert Smith, a graduate of Doane Academy and Dartmouth University, Lafayette, Ind., visited his father, Mr. M. P. Smith in Granville Sunday.

R. C. Bigbee of Newark was a visitor in Granville Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Hetrick of Newark was in Granville, Sunday.

The following invitation has been sent out to members of the Freshman class of Denison university: "Double, Double, Toil and trouble, Fire Burn and Couldn't bubble." Doone Gynnasium, Saturday, October 27, 1900.

Misses Mildred Harper and Alma Polk of Shepards college spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Columbus.

Miss Mary Ferguson of Croton spent Saturday at her home in Granville. The following invitations have been received by a number of Shepards college girls: "The Calliopean Literary Society request the pleasure of your presence at the initiation exercises, Calliope Hall Wednesday evening, October 31."

The Irving Literary Society held its initiation Friday night from 8 to 11 in Irving Hall.

James Dawine, a prominent business man of Cleveland, was in the village a short time Saturday.

LECTURE COURSE.
Granville, Oct. 22.—The Granville Lecture course is now on its way rejoining. The sale of seats began Saturday morning, as announced, and the prospects are for a very good year. The plot of the Opera House is now in the hands of Mr. Ullman at the book store, who is enthusiastic over the outlook. We suggest that all who pledged tickets call and reserve them as the best seats are going rapidly. The committee will ask all who made pledges to call and make purchase of tickets as the required number was reached. Dr. Vincent, the first speaker, will no doubt have an enthusiastic reception in Granville as he is one of America's foremost after dinner speakers.

MRS. LINGAFELTER TRIAL TUESDAY

COURT WILL PASS UPON MOTION FOR CHANGE OF VENUE IN THIS CASE.

Demurrer Filed—Really Transfers Record.—Natural Gas Suit—Court House News Items.

The case of the State of Ohio against Mrs. Mary J. Lingafelter, charged with aiding and abetting in the commission of a forgery, will come up for trial in the Common Pleas court on Tuesday, Judge Campbell of Ashland presiding. Mrs. Lingafelter has filed a motion for a change of venue which will be passed upon by the court.

The defense in the case of the State of Ohio against Mrs. J. Lingafelter, to be called for trial Tuesday morning, late on Saturday afternoon filed twelve affidavits in support of Mrs. Lingafelter's motion to remove the case for trial to an adjoining county. Two of the affidavits were filed by Mrs. Lingafelter and two by her attorney Phil B. Smythe. The remaining affidavits were sworn to by James R. Atcherly, J. W. Horner, Link C. Russell, O. H. Wood, George Williams, William Weber, C. C. Beckman, and Charles S. Brown. These parties each have made affidavit that on account of bias and prejudice in the mind of the public generally toward Mrs. Lingafelter, it will be impossible to secure in Licking county a jury which can render a fair and impartial verdict in the case; they also state in their affidavits that for two years the wrecking of the Newark Savings Bank and the Home-Street Building association have been exciting topics of conversation among the people of the county in which the common expression of opinion has been against the defendant; that there are a large number of stockholders and depositors in the bank and the association residing in the county and they have many friends and relatives in the county who have great sympathy for the losers in both of said institutions; that the feeling is intense against the Lingafelter family and particularly against her said Mary J. Lingafelter.

Judge Campbell has given the State until 5 o'clock Monday evening to file its affidavits against the motion. Prosecutor Fitzgibbon has been busy all day procuring affidavits to the effect that Mrs. Lingafelter can have a fair and impartial trial in Licking county. The motion for a change of venue will be heard Tuesday morning.

Monday afternoon 26 affidavits from prominent business men of Newark were filed with the clerk by Prosecutor Fitzgibbon stating that they are of the opinion that Mrs. Lingafelter can have a fair and impartial trial in Licking county. The motion for a change of venue will be heard Tuesday morning.

Demurrer Filed.

Heisey & Co., the defendant has filed a demurrer to the second amended petition of the plaintiff, on the grounds that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action against the defendant. HORSE'S NECK WAS BROKEN

THOMAS CLINE CHARGED WITH DRIVING ANIMAL TO ITS DEATH.

Four Persons in Buggy When Horse Died—Case Will Be Heard on Thursday.

Charged with the grave offense of driving a horse until it fell and broke its neck, Thomas Cline, a Newark man, faced Mayor McChesney Monday morning in police court. It isn't often that this charge is made against the name of a prisoner in police court and it isn't often that a man drives a horse until it breaks its neck.

The horse was the property of Murray & Saffel, the well known liverymen and was hired Sunday by Mr. Cline. It is alleged that he drove the horse in such a manner that it fell and broke its neck. He was riding with several companions, the Misses Leona and Grace Parr and Mr. William Parr being with him. They were driving in the country when the accident occurred and as the horse was a valuable one, the liverymen hold Mr. Cline responsible for the death of the animal.

Cline pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing Thursday. It is intimated that the case may be settled before that time.

CLARENCE H. WHITE

Newark Photographer Goes to New York to Establish His Residence and Advance in His Work.

Mr. Clarence H. White, who left for the East last week, has established his residence at 182 Claremont avenue, New York City, with business headquarters at the Camera Club, New York. Mrs. White and children will leave for New York early this week.

The departure of Mr. White and his family is a distinct loss to Newark. Mr. White has taken a great interest in civic improvement and his photographic work has given Newark prominence both in America and Europe. White is a pioneer in the "new photography" and today he ranks at the top of his profession. In order to better enable him to pursue his work, Mr. White decided to locate in New York. Recently he has done much work for book and magazine illustration.

A few years ago Mr. White was a book-keeper at Flock & Neill's store. He became interested in the use of the camera and soon began to produce pictures that attracted the attention of art critics. His photographs were soon seen at various exhibitions in the eastern cities and later became prominent in European art centers. Then the magazine editors and book publishers began to "take notice" and, in past three years Mr. White has devoted his entire time to the development of the photographic art.

Freshmen Defeat Mutes At Granville In Good Game Saturday Afternoon

Washington, Pa., Oct. 22.—Denison University football team was defeated here Saturday afternoon by the Washington and Jefferson College team by a score of 29 to 0. The Denison team was clearly outclassed, both as to weight and skill, the W. and J. boys playing a better all-around game. W. and J. worked the forward pass several times with great success and easily prevented the line plays and end runs of their opponents. Almost the entire game was played with the ball on the visitors' side of the field. Line-up and summary:

CLIMAX COMES TO ROMANTIC WEDDING

London, Oct. 22.—Longwood Castle, the ancestral hall of the Aberdare family, has been closed to Camille Clifford, who married Henry Lyndhurst Bruce, heir of Lord Aberdare and her husband. This climax to a romantic marriage came at midnight Saturday when Lord Aberdare drove his son and bride from the castle and told them never to return. Refusal of Bruce's parents to receive them means that the young bride will continue on the stage for the present.

MICHIGAN GETS A SEVERE JOLT

YOST'S MEN FAIL TO CROSS
STATE'S GOAL IN 60 MINUTES OF PLAY.

Scored Four Points on Goal From Field and Two Points on Forced Safety.

Columbus, O., Oct. 22.—Michigan defeated Ohio State here Saturday afternoon in the last four minutes of play which 3 to 0. Goals made a place kick from the field, scoring four points, and Ohio State was forced to a safety, scoring two more points just before the game was called. Ohio State put up a stubborn defense and kept the Wolverines from scoring on straight football.

The game—the first and second half—was played here in Ohio territory. The Michigan backs were unable most of the time to make the required ten yards and Ohio was well coached to stop Garrels' fake punts and trick runs. The State goal was never in danger from straight football. The fifteen-yard line was the nearest Michigan got. Garrels twice tried a place kick in each half. The kick tell shot twice and went wide another time.

Garrels Makes Field Goal.
The last time he tried it, after twenty-six minutes of the second half had been played, was from the thirty-six-yard line at a bad angle. The ball fell true and squarely over the middle of the bars. Then came the fatal end for State, in which two more points were scored. Sheldon had been forced out of the game in the middle of the second half owing to an injury to his knee. Lawrence, who was moved in from guard to succeed him, as also hurt in the last three minutes of play, and Claggett, a guard with no center experience, was forced to go in and pass the ball. Garrels punted to States' ten-yard line. Ohio tried twice to gain but failed. Claggett passed high to Gibson, punting from behind his own goal, and Gibson was forced to down it for a safety. With the score 6 to 0, Ohio punted from their twenty-five-yard line. Curtis made a fair catch in the middle of the field and the game was over.

Curtis Plays Brilliantly.
Curtis played great ball for the Wolverines. He could readily be seen why Yost wants him behind the line to carry the piskin. Garrels did not punt so well in the second half, having a strong wind to contend with. Captain Lincoln, Schorey and McDonald were stars for the Ohio State team. A crowd of 6,000 witnessed it on a day that was perfect. Michigan sent down 550 on a special train of eleven coaches. Line-up and summary:

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects ability to hold urine and scalding pain, passing it, and overcomes that temporary necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It sends the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. HOW CUPID FOILED OIL KING.

Wedding Banns Plan to Add Melin's Land to Rockefeller Estate.

John D. Rockefeller has not sent neighborly congratulations to John Melin of Pocantico Hills, near Tarrytown, N. Y., who married pretty Miss Annie Oleson, formerly of Stockholm, the other day, says the New York World.

John Melin dispenses refreshments for man and boy in Sleepy Hollow. If the man is thirsty Melin will sell him a glass of ale or something stronger. If the boy likes sweets he can buy a stick of candy from Melin. For years Mr. Rockefeller has been trying to rid himself of Melin as a neighbor. For years Mr. Rockefeller has been adding to his fine estate on the Pocantico hills.

But Melin said: "Here I was before Rockefeller came; here is my home; here I earn my living, and here I will remain." Then Mr. Rockefeller issued an order to his employees boycotting Melin; told his 300 gardeners and grounds and ground keepers that if they drank strong drinks at Melin's they must go work for some poorer man. Melin's profits fell off, but he stayed. Then death intervened, and in favor of the richest man. Melin's wife died. His sister went to keep house for him. She fell ill and died.

"I can't bear to stay here longer," he told his customers. The news spread. Agents went to Melin and offered a good price for his land. He told them he would think it over for awhile. Two hours before the agents were to return John Melin stood in his doorway looking down the road. A girl approached.

"Well, if this isn't Annie Oleson," Melin cried. "I haven't seen her for ever so long. I'm glad to see you, Annie," he exclaimed, giving her an awful handshake. "When you used to visit my wife I thought how much you two were alike. Married, eh?"

"No," said the blushing Annie. "Would you—er—would you like to be?"

"You mean—to you—and live up here?"

"Of course."

"I think it would be nice," said the fair haired Annie, surveying the scenery. Thrifty, they wasted no more words nor time, but went to the village parson.

"I've changed my mind," Melin told the agents when they returned. "I will not sell. You see, I am married. I never saw a finer day, did you? Have a drink on me, gentlemen."

Death favored, love foiled, the richest man.

NOW CANNING "HOT STUFF."

Preparing Chili Peppers For Market a New Industry in Los Angeles.

A new industry was started in Los Angeles, Cal., recently, that of preparing for the wholesale market, Mexican canned foods and dainties in which the chili pepper forms an important item, says the Los Angeles Times. Such foodstuffs have never before been put up in this way for the market.

"Hot stuff" is getting popular in all sections of the United States, and as about the "hottest stuff" is a chili pepper there is a greater demand for the red pod than ever before and greater than can be supplied.

One reason put forward for this growing demand for the chili pepper from so many quarters is that tourists coming to Los Angeles acquire the taste for Spanish dishes and securing recipes reproduce the tasty dishes at home and pass along the recipe to their neighbors. But whatever the cause there has suddenly developed this extraordinary demand for the "hot stuff," and there are carload orders from many parts of the country which cannot be filled.

Naturally the price of chilis has boomed. Last spring the rate wholesale for red peppers was 10 cents a pound. Now it is from 12 to 13 cents and not enough at this price. Farmers in all parts of Southern California are beginning to turn their fields to the cultivation of the chili, but the home of the chili at present is about Anaheim, Fullerton and Santa Ana.

Near Santa Monica is a rancher who raises what is called the black chili, which has a thicker skin and a sweet flavor, though just as hot as the old fashioned kind. This is the only ranch of black peppers known of near Los Angeles. Ranchers raised about a ton of chilis to the acre and received over $200 a ton for them evaporated.

HATS OFF AT THE ASTOR.

Theater Tickets With Contract For Women to Remove Headgear.

Every woman who buys a ticket to the Astor theater in New York enters into a contract to remove her headgear, be it ever so glorious to gaze upon, says the New York Times. Wagenhak & Kemper, the managers of the playhouse, have been greatly annoyed by the persistence with which some of the women among the spectators have refused to take off their hats when requested to do so.

New tickets have been ordered, and on the reverse side of each seat coupon is printed:

This ticket is sold with the understanding and agreement that if a lady uses the same she will remove her hat upon request of any employee of the management.

A theater ticket, according to recent decisions of the courts, represents a contract between the purchaser and the management. The question that remains to be answered is, Who gets the damages if some woman is still obstinate? Is the management to profit at the man who has passed his evening in the shadow of a hat?

ANTHONY COMSTOCK, SUPPRESSOR OF VICE

Side Lights on a Relentless Veteran in the War Against the Indecent and Obscene.

Self-Constituted Censor of Public Morals, Who Has Started a Lively Fight Against an Art Students' League, Has Been a Fighter From His Youth. Under Fire Third of a Century—Now He Won an Enemy's Friendship.

By ROBERTUS LOVE.

ANTHONY COMSTOCK is an institution. He is chartered under the laws of the state of New York. As an individual he was merged long ago into the New York Society for the Suppression of Vice. Comstock is the society. While he is called secretary and special agent of this society and there are other officers and directors, he is about as nearly the whole thing as any one man can be. The society, in the first place, was founded to fit Comstock. As an unofficial suppressor of vice as he views it, Comstock antedated the society. Of his own initiative he created the job which he has held for thirty-four years, and the society was merely added unto him.

The latest episode in which Comstock figures is somewhat different from the thousands of others that have brought him into notoriety. He appears in court to prosecute a young girl of nineteen, a sort of bookkeeper or clerk in the Art Students' league office in New York, on the charge of distributing copies of a prospectus issued by the league containing pictures of the nude human form. The prospectus was issued for the benefit of students in the life classes at the league school of art and was mailed to them and to prospective students. Comstock seized and confiscated several hundred copies of the publication, which he declared to be "obscene and indecent."

A Fight For Art's Sake.

American artists are up in arms. They resent this act of Comstock with a resentment that flashes fire and spits brimstone. They declare that they will fight him to the finish. It will

Whether or not one agrees precisely with Comstock's point of view regarding the "indecent" of the nude or nearly nude figure artistically limned or drawn, nobody can deny that the man himself is a fighter. He has been a fighter from his youth. His brother Samuel was killed at Gettysburg. Anthony, who was nineteen years old, volunteered to take the place of his dead brother in the ranks. He enlisted in his brother's Connecticut regiment and served until beyond the end of the war.

Wanted to Be a Great Merchant.

In 1867 young Anthony quit his Connecticut home and proceeded to New York. He had $3.45 and an ambition to become a great merchant. For a week he wore out sole leather in search of a job. Finally he became a porter in a wholesale house and then shipping clerk. After several years he came to be a dry goods salesman at a salary of $1,500 a year. He married, paid down $500 on a little house in Brooklyn and continued his efforts to become a second A. T. Stewart. Meanwhile he took an interest in Y. M. C. A. work.

In the store where he worked Comstock observed that some of the young men and boys were reading a very bad book. He read it himself and pronounced it bad. He discovered that it was on sale a few doors away. He notified the policeman on the beat, seeking the officer's co-operation in having the bookseller arrested and punished. The policeman straightway notified the bookseller that he was in danger, a young man named Comstock being after him. Comstock straightway had the policeman dismissed from the went to Washington in 1875 and lobbied through such a law against the most violent opposition. Then there was nobody to see that it was enforced. Comstock had himself appointed a postoffice inspector with the special duty of detecting and prosecuting violations of the Comstock law. At his own request he was appointed to serve without pay, and for more than thirty years he has held this position with no remuneration from the government.

Arrested One Man Seventeen Times.

Literally and figuratively the bullets began to fly as soon as Comstock was well launched upon his real career. He has been shot at a number of times by men whom he has caused to be imprisoned for dealing in green goods or obscene literature. Once in City Hall park, New York, he was stabbed by a man whom he had arrested sixteen times for sending obscene matter through the mails to fourteen states. Comstock arrested the man for the seventeenth time, turned him over to a uniformed officer and went and had his wound dressed.

One day at his home in Summit, N. J., he received through the mail a package containing some vile smelling rags. An expert to whom the rags were submitted found that they were covered with smallpox scabs and virus of the most malignant kind.

At another time Comstock was the recipient of an infernal machine. He still keeps it as a souvenir, though he has disposed of the bundle of rags.

Comstock carries a revolver. Many times he has observed men shadowing him, and upon having them arrested it has been discovered that they were walking arsenals. As a rule, they are men whom Comstock at some time or other has sent to prison. On one occasion Comstock was walking down Nassau street when he came face to face with a man who had threatened to kill him at sight. This fellow had dealt in bad literature, and Comstock had sent him to Sing Sing.

"I did not propose to take any chances," Comstock said in relating the incident, "so I just held my revolver in my coat pocket ready for instant action. The man stopped right in front of me and said that he wanted me to help him out of trouble. He stated that he had been arrested in Brooklyn charged with a crime of which he was innocent. He was out on bail. He told me that I had convicted him fairly the time we met before, and he believed me to be a square. He thought I could help him. I went over and investigated the case, found that the man was innocent, caused the arrest and conviction of the actual criminal and made a firm friend of my former enemy."

But One Judgment Against Him.

Damage suits aggregating claims of more than $250,000 have been brought against the vice suppressor by persons aggrieved because of his confiscation of photographs, paintings, statuary or "literature." There has been but one judgment against him, and that was for 6 cents. He is an international encyclopedia of information about court decisions upholding his view of what is improper and unlawful in art and literature. When Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, recently made head of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, expressed high indignation because of Comstock's action in raiding the Art Students' league the raider said:

"Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke may snort and sneer at the enforcement of law in the interest of public morals in this country. If he will consult the records of the higher courts in England he will find that the very principle which governed our action in the Art Students' league case was established by the lord chief justice and a full bench in the queen's court, England, in 1867."

Just how the artists are going to come out in their fight against Anthony Comstock, Chartered, is a question, but there is no question at all that it will be a lively fight, for Comstock is only sixty-two years of age and very vigorous.

MORGAN'S CHERRY TREE.

Came to Be Made of One Where Confederate Raider Surrendered.

John H. Morgan's surrender took place about seven miles south of New Lisbon, O., under a cherry tree, which is a few hundred yards from the farmhouse of John Hepler, says the Toledo Blade. Morgan was crossing from the Steubenville to the Wellsville roads when intercepted.

The famous old tree under which the Confederate raider surrendered to General Shackelford is to be cut into memorial walking canes under direction of Starr post, G. A. R., of Lisbon and sold, the proceeds to be applied toward the cost of a county G. A. R. memorial building in Lisbon.

The old tree was struck by lightning three years ago and killed, and some step is necessary to save the rapidly decaying wood.

Airship That Startled Farmers.

Farmers and other residents of New Fairfield, Conn., a town five miles north of Danbury, were startled the other day by the appearance of a strange object in the air, which many thought was an airship, says the New York World. There did not appear to be any persons aboard, and no one observed anything like a basket or car suspended from it. The object first attracted attention, as reported by members of the family of Mrs. O. D. Taylor, by a noise like an automobile. It went through the air very swiftly, and in shape it resembled a big naval torpedo. It was near enough to be seen quite plainly.

The President's Good Thing.

There is one really good thing about being president of the United States at Thanksgiving time, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. His turkey never costs him a cent.

SNOWSTORMS IN THE WEST

Rocky Mountain Region Swept by Blinding Blizzards.

TROPICAL TORNADO IS OVER

Hurricane in Bahamas, Together with Volcanic Disturbance, Caused Devastation, with Heavy Loss of Life. Bodies Washed from Graves by Floods in Cemeteries.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The weather bureau announces that all that is left of the tropical storm that wrought havoc in its path from Cuba across the Florida keys is a shallow barometric depression over southern Florida, with no dangerous features. A severe snow storm, with freezing temperature, is raging in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, northern New Mexico, northern Arizona and northern Texas. The snow storm extends through the Rocky mountain districts and the plains states eastward.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 22.—A general storm prevailed along the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains from Wyoming to New Mexico. Snow fell in Colorado almost incessantly for 24 hours. As yet no serious results are reported in this section, but from Albuquerque, N. M., comes a report of considerable property damage there storm extended to the western slope. In the valley around Buena Vista the snow lies two feet deep on the level and in the mountains throughout the state the snow varies from two to five feet in depth. Apple orchards in the vicinity of Florence will suffer considerably. In northern Colorado the snow is 20 inches deep and should a freeze follow heavy loss will result to the potato crop.

Salt Lake, Utah, Oct. 22.—This city and vicinity was swept by a high wind storm of unparalleled severity. In addition to three serious accidents to persons, property over a wide area was devastated. A fire fanned by the wind obliterated the new plant of the Utah packing company, causing a loss of about $250,000. Much of the time street car service was at a standstill and the electric lighting plants out of commission.

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 22.—One man was killed and $100,000 in property was destroyed by a heavy wind storm that swept over this section. William Gibbs was struck by a flying plank and killed. The Catholic church was badly damaged and other large buildings suffered. Trains between Ogden and Salt Lake were stalled.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 22.—The worst blizzard since the great storm of 1882 is general throughout New Mexico. A high wind brought a general fall of snow and sleet throughout the Grand valley and reports indicate that the losses to sheep growers will be very heavy.

San Salvador, Oct. 22.—Telegraphic communication with interior points has been restored and news of the disaster wrought by the terrific storm which swept over the country is being received. Over 100 persons were drowned in Coatequeque. A vast quantity of sulphur water was thrown out of the Chulo volcano and inundated the town of Panchimalco, killing most of the inhabitants. From other points also reports of terrible devastation are coming in. Pimiento and other towns are reported to have been swept away by the floods. The schooner Azelene, with a number of passengers on board, was lost between Corinto, Nicaragua, and Amapala, Honduras. Everybody on board was drowned. The floods disinterred a number of corpses from cemeteries and carried them down the streams. It is reported that the railroads in Honduras suffered serious damage.

HOUSEBOATS ROLLED

Like Barrels in the Waves That Swept Coast of Florida.

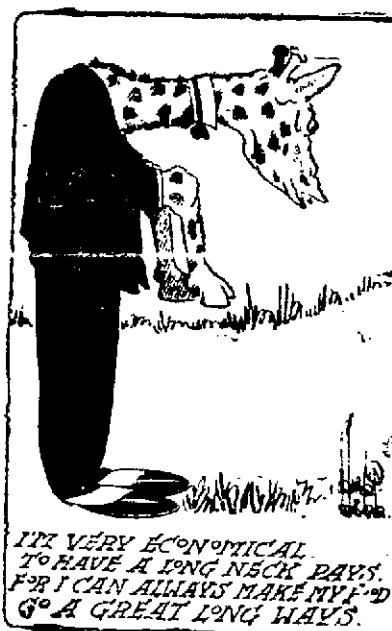

Key West, Fla., Oct. 22.—A. P. Dusenbury, a civil engineer in charge of the railway work on Long Key, who miraculously escaped death, arrived here on the Russian steamer Jennie among other survivors rescued. He says a houseboat on which were 150 men, was struck by the storm and driven out into the gulf, where it began to break up. As great waves hit her men singly and in bunches of two and three were washed into the sea and drowned. Some went below for protection, but when the top of the boat was carried away the waves rushed in and the boat soon went to pieces, 30 or 40 of the men being crushed to death in the collapse. Dusenbury was in the hold, but succeeded in getting a log and floated until picked up.

On one piece of timber 16 men were clinging and nine were hanging to another. The sides of the houseboat were crowded with men. It turned over three times, each time reducing the number. The Russian steamer Jennie sighted the wreckage and succeeded in rescuing the 49 men, who were brought here. Three other steamers, with searchlights, were picking up dead and alive when the Jennie left the scene. Charles Allen of Cleveland, O., was among those rescued.

There was another houseboat with 150 men on board at Long Key, which Dusenbury thinks it was swept to sea.

ANIMAL LAUGHS

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women. The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman." In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted.

VICIOUS ASSAULT UPON JOHNSON SATURDAY NIGHT

PEARL STREET MAN ATTACKED BY TWO THUGS IN CENTER OF TOWN.

MOTIVE WAS NOT ROBBERY

Jaw Dislocated By Blow and Both Sets of Teeth Broken—Assailants Are Unknown.

"We got you that time you" — was the remark made by one of two thugs who viciously assaulted Samuel Johnson of 28 Pearl street in front of the Swisher Brothers cigar factory on West Main street Saturday night about 10 o'clock. Mr. Johnson was rendered unconscious from the shock and lay for several moments on the sidewalk in front of the factory before he recovered sufficiently to go to his home.

Mr. Johnson had started down town to transact some business before the stores closed and as he approached the alley between the Swisher factory and McGonagle's morgue, he noticed two men standing near the corner of the building.

He did not anticipate an assault and paid no attention to the pair. However, just as he stepped upon the walk from the alley pavement, one of the men hit him on the chin. He struck a return blow but as he swung around, the other man landed a terrific blow directly on the point of the chin. Mr. Johnson fell to the pavement and lapsed into unconsciousness just as the remark above mentioned was called to him from the fleeing thugs.

Mr. Johnson managed to get to his home on Pearl street but was still in a dazed condition when he arrived there and was unable to give a connected account of the affair. Dr. Shiver, who was called, found that Mr. Johnson's jaw was dislocated and that a deep laceration had been cut in his chin. There was every indication that his assailants used knuckles. Mr. Johnson uses false teeth and both plates were broken by the blow.

Mr. Johnson is at loss to account for the assault. There was no effort to commit robbery. He had a quantity of change in his pocket and wore a ring. However, the men took his hat when they ran and this was all Mr. Johnson lost. The matter was not reported to the police.

Journal was taken to Kester's where a fine banquet was partaken of, the affair, being enlivened by remarks from a number of the visiting carriers. An outside party at the meeting made an effort to turn it into a political affair for the benefit of the Hon. M. L. Smyser, for congress. He urged all the rural carriers to work and vote for Smyser, preaching to them that Smyser would get their pay increased, and for that reason they should do all they could for Smyser's election. Smyser himself was rather more cautious in asking the rural carriers to openly work for his election, but he utilized the occasion for his own benefit all the same by making tall and lofty promises of what he was "going to do."

In this connection it is proper to say that in one of Smyser's cards that he is distributing to people he makes the claim that he "secured full R. E. D. service for Licking county." This claim is absolutely false. He did not secure one rural route for Licking county. All the routes that the county has today were established before former Congressman Cassingham's term expired.

Both Congressmen McDowell and Cassingham, who are Democrats, were much more industrious and successful in getting rural mail routes for this district than Smyser has done, as the records at Washington will show.

CIRCUIT COURT DECIDES FATE OF BRIDGE TRUST

Bellefontaine, Oct. 22.—The circuit court of Logan county today decided the fate of the remainder of the companies in the bridge trust ousting all the remaining Ohio companies from their charters and driving from the state the foreign companies. The Pennsylvania Bridge company, Zeover Falls, Pa., Substructure company of Columbus, the Variety Iron works of Cleveland, and the Columbus Bridge company are held guilty of violation of the Valentine anti-trust law. Trustees were appointed to wind up the business.

KICKED ON HEAD AND BADLY HURT

DR. HEMPSTEAD'S SON INJURED AT CROTON BY HORSE MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Mrs. Lincoln Who Has Relatives in This City Believed to Be Dying in Croton.

Croton, Oct. 22.—B. D. Hempstead, 21, son of Dr. Hempstead, was badly hurt this afternoon while riding his motor cycle a half mile west of town. In passing a team one of the horses kicked Mr. Hempstead on the forehead inflicting an ugly and perhaps a serious injury. The young man's nose was also mashed. A telephone message was sent to Dr. Graham at Centerville and in 16 minutes Dr. Graham was here, having driven the distance of five miles in that length of time. Drs. Graham and Hempstead are now examining the injured man's heads.

Word from the home of Mrs. Lincoln this afternoon is that her death is expected within a very short time. The sick woman is the widow of William Lincoln and has relatives in Newark and Granville.

ASKS THE MAYOR FOR PROTECTION

John Norris Says His Daughter is Restrained at Kearn Home Against Her Will.

John E. Norris of Hoover street, called at the Mayor's office Monday and asked for police protection in his effort to get his daughter Mrs. Robert Kearn, who is in a serious condition, from the home of her husband's people. Mr. Norris stated that Mrs. Kearn has a babe not yet two weeks old and that he has sent doctors and nurses to the Kearn home to look after her. He states that himself and his wife have both been denied admission to the house and have not been able to see their daughter.

Mr. Norris stated that the young woman was being held at the Kearn home against her will and that when Mrs. Norris called there Sunday, she was ordered from the premises and was not permitted to see the daughter.

The mayor told Mr. Norris that this was a matter that the city police department could not handle.

Fisheries Agreement.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The state department made public the text of the modus vivendi relative to the Newfoundland fisheries, already dealt with in abstract form. The people of Newfoundland expressed a desire to see it in its entirety before the cabinet of the island colony decided on a line of action. The modus, instead of taking the form of a treaty, is embodied in correspondence passing between the British foreign office and the United States ambassador at London.
